Philosophy

William James and Henri Bergson

By HORACE MEYER KALLEN, University of Wisconsin. $1.50, postpaid $1.65. This volume is a study in philosophic contrasts. It points out how William James and Henri Bergson, although showing certain general tendencies of thought, formulate divergent, and in some respects antagonistic, theories of life and fate.

Some Religious Implications of Pragmatism

By JOSEPH R. GEIGER, College of William and Mary. 50 cents, postpaid 53 cents. This study is concerned with the religious problem as it has come to be formulated in the history of modern thought. Dr. Geiger says that if pragmatism is to prove fruitful and suggestive for the interpretation of religious realities and for the criticism and evaluation of religious knowledge and truth, this must be by reason of its general doctrines concerning reality, knowledge and truth.

Theology

The Platonism of Philo Judaeus

By THOMAS H. BILLINGS, Professor of Classics in Carleton College. $1.00, postpaid $1.10. The author discusses his subject under the following heads: A Survey of Philonic Interpretation, Philo's Conception of the Ultimate Reality, The Intermediary Powers, Man's Soul and Its Powers, Ethics, The Influence of Plato on the Phraseology of Philo.

The New Orthodoxy

By EDWARD SCRIBNER AMES, Associate Professor of Philosophy, the University of Chicago. $1.00, postpaid $1.10. Every person dissatisfied with the scholastic faith of traditional Protestantism will find this volume exceedingly helpful. This book seeks to present in simple terms a view of religion consistent with the mental habits of those trained in the sciences, in the professions, and in the direction of practical affairs.

The American Journal of Theology

Edited by THE DIVINITY FACULTY OF THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO AND COLLEAGUES IN ALLIED DEPARTMENTS.

This periodical is published quarterly. Each number is a good-sized book in itself, and the four numbers which appear in the course of a year make a volume of 640 large pages.

The Journal covers the entire field of religion, dealing with historical, biblical, doctrinal, and practical subjects.

About one-third of each issue is devoted to reviews of recent books and classified lists of recently published books.

During the present year especial attention will be given to the issues and questions now before the churches.

The Platform of Modern Protestantism will be set forth in a series of articles by leaders of various denominations.

The Ideals of the Christian Union Movements will be analyzed on the basis of official documents.

Can Theology Be an Empirical Science? Leading theologians will discuss this question.

Subscription price for one year $3.00, Foreign postage 41 cents; Canadian 20 cents.

The Rival Philosophies of Jesus and Paul

Being an Explanation of the Failures of Organized Christianity, and a Vindication of the Teachings of Jesus, which are shown to contain a Religion for all Men and for all Times
By IGNATIUS SINGER. Cloth, $2.00.

"The author's general position, his attitude towards institutional religion — the churches and ecclesiastical authority — are clearly set forth. . . . the author attributes to all thinking people a desire to know not merely why the church has failed, but why Christianity has failed in its mission — by which he means, not the religion of Jesus, but that of the Christian churches. . . . Much has been said of religious unrest, of uncertainty and "honest doubt," of absenteeism from church, indifference to religion, and cooling of religious sentiment in which there is a possible confusion of cause and effect. . . . The people are looking for something which the churches do not supply. . . . The restoration of Reason to the judicial bench, its virtual enthronement, is the key to the volume, the distinctive feature of the structure of Mr. Singer's building. . . . But it was theology that fell, and not Religion. . . . the Christ of the Gospel is held to be a myth. He was evolved by Saint Paul many years after the death of Jesus, and Saint Paul, therefore, was the founder of Christianity as the word is now understood. . . . The book makes strenuous reading, and there is in it more strong meat for man than milk for babies."—From the London Montrose Standard.

AN ETHICAL SYSTEM

BASED ON THE LAWS OF NATURE

By M. DESHUMBERT

TRANSLATED FROM THE FRENCH INTO ENGLISH BY

LIONEL GILES, M.A.

231 pages. Paper cover. Price 75 cents

THIS BOOK has already appeared in seven different languages and will shortly appear in three others. It is perhaps the best short popular statement of scientific ethics going to show that Nature is intelligent in her operations in man and society as well as in animals and plants. The scientific value of moral living is proven by clear reasoning and concrete proofs.

Such topics as the golden rule — immortality — coöperation — happiness — harmony — soul — are all founded on universal principles of evolution to which man as a constituent part of Nature is subject.

The progress of science is proving that the grand object pursued by Nature is life — not merely life in the quantitative sense but “life reaching the highest pitch of activity, morality, and intelligence.”

The laws of right and wrong are the very laws of life and death. For this reason it is of the utmost importance that the children be given every help in learning that the unalterable laws of Nature are also the laws of their own minds and bodies.

Books of Permanent Value

THE RELIGIOUS HISTORY OF NEW ENGLAND

By JOHN W. PLATNER, W. W. FENN, and others $2.75

Essays on the Congregationalists, Unitarians, Baptists, Quakers, Episcopalians, Methodists, Universalists, and Swedenborgians, each by an acknowledged leader.

"A book of first rate importance to the student of American Christianity."—Union Seminary Review. "This fascinating volume."—Contemporary Review (London).

STRIFE OF SYSTEMS AND PRODUCTIVE DUALITY

By WILMON H. SHELDON, of Dartmouth College $3.50

"A distinct achievement. . . . The volume offers an admirably sympathetic and accurate cross section of the deposit of the entire philosophic tradition. . . . It is a very substantial and much needed achievement to have given the careful exposition of Natorp's, Münsterberg's, and Baldwin's systems, to have given a fine portrayal and interpretation of the Thomistic synthesis, to have subjected 'Great Objectivism' to a remarkably clear and acute analysis and criticism, and everywhere to see into the motives, the difficulties, and the deeper points of contact between the major types of philosophic thinking."—GEORGE P. ADAMS, in The Philosophical Review.

THE SELF AND NATURE

By DEWITT H. PARKER, of the University of Michigan $2.00

"It is independently thought out, and well abreast of the speculations of modern thinkers; and its own attitude to the riddle of the universe is an encouraging one, since its teaching discredits pessimism as an intelligible disillusion, and lays it down that 'all the fundamental values of human existence remain intact.'"—The Scotsman (Edinburgh).

THE ORDER OF NATURE

By LAWRENCE J. HENDERSON, of Harvard University $1.50

"I am struck with its thoroughness and thoughtfulness, and regard it as of unusual significance and value to all earnest students of the theology of nature."—J. W. BUCKHAM, Pacific Theological Seminary, Berkeley, California.
